*JOKER: hand to hand combat, increase of users physical attributes like speed, strength, durability.

METAL: increase in strength and durability, a decrease in speed, uses a metal bo-staff.

*FANG: Fang/Joker or solo it has Fang Daggers on the wrist(s), ankle(s), and shoulder (s), with a fusion Fang/Metal the Metal Staff becomes a Fang-Scythe, with the Fang/Trigger fusion the magnum becomes a Rifle with a Fang-Bayonet.

An increase of physical abilities, sharpen claws, somewhat uncontrollable if used as a solo henshin.

*TRIGGER: Depending if its a fusion or solo transformation, the gun that Trigger uses will change. If its a solo henshin, the weapons will be a Rapid fire Pistol or a mega shot Magnum (in maximum driver or booster mode).

BOOSTER:

1) the booster gaia memory, increases the power output of the corresponding Gaia Memory. And is labeled as a gold and silver memory. And could be used in the double driver to increase either the Fang memory as a Fang/Booster(as a gold memory) or Booster/joker, metal, or Trigger. (As a silver memory) thus allowing Bowen to become Kamen rider Fang, Joker, Metal, or Trigger as a solid solo color scheme instead of the duel color scheme combo.

2) the booster memory could also be used as a power up for the maximum or ultimate driver finishers for which ever Gaia Memory.

3) once used it takes roughly an hour to re-charge.

-Memory types-

GOLD Gaia Memory: JOKER, METAL, TRIGGER

SILVER Gaia Memory: FANG

DUEL Gaia Memory: BOOSTER (can be used as either as a Silver or Gold Gaia Memory)

COMBOS/SOLO:

FANG-JOKER: the original combo from the tv series.

FANG-METAL: (fanmade) instead of having the fang blades on his wrist, shoulder, or ankle, the fang is now located on the end of the metal staff.

FANG-TRIGGER: a rapid fire rifle with a large fang shaped bayonet.

*BOOSTER-JOKER: looks like kamen rider Joker, but with a red and purple W detail.

BOOSTER-METAL: same as kamen rider Metal, but a red and silver W,. A long with two metal staffs.

BOOSTER-TRIGGER: red and blue W, two trigger Magnums.

FANG-BOOSTER: black and red W, gains black fangs on the opposite side of the white fangs.

JOKER: joker-joker combo

METAL: metal-metal combo

TRIGGER: trigger-trigger

FANG: fang-fang

BOOSTER: silver and gold with a red W.

-history-

Due to moving to Japan on his own, his Father called in a favor from an old friend of his. While his mother gave Bowen the basics of how Devil society worked.

His father while human was part of a top secret organization that delta with stray devils, rogue fallen angels and yokai. Known as... Organization DC-LX-VI. While they do not have access to magic, they make due with technology. Thus creating the global protectors... the Kamen Riders.

Thus giving Bowen the Gold-Silver double driver belt, along with five Gaia Memories. Fang, Metal, Trigger, Joker, and Booster.

While his mother was a former high class devil. She had left that life behind when she met his father. While she may have left her former life behind, her old peerage are seeking vengeance upon her for leaving them.

Her peerage will be the main antagonist for bowen and the ORC(Rias peerage and herself) along with other villains from DxD series.

2. Enter The Masked Rider

Here is the first chapter of a series that is so few in number.

Chapter One

Enter the Masked Rider.

Speed, adrenaline, the cool air nipping at his face, the feeling of 150 Km an hour Gusts of wind slapping against him as he sped between traffic and ran stop lights. The flash of green illuminating the dash of his motorcycle as the morning sun glanced off his shades.

Looking at the approaching school coming closer, only for him to clutch the break, and swerve into the parking lot of the school with a high pitch squealing of tires and of break pads, while coming to a complete stop just feet from the school gates.

"... 112, 500 meters in forty-five minutes... not bad." The young man said with a smirk on his face as he stepped off his ride. Only to see a pair of glaring eyes. "Oh... hey miss president. Didn't see you there."

Giving a small wave to the girl with a short haircut and glasses, she is Sona Shitori. Someone whom he's seen to have had made it their life's mission to make his life a living hell.

"Mr. Odinson, we have been over this a while now since you been here. Student vehicles are not allowed." The young woman said glaring at the young lad.

"And I told you Time and Time again, I'm not taking a train. Hell the closest train station is the one not far from here. So it's pointless to take a train if it's just a block away from school." The ravenette said while scratching his neck. "Besides I live alone so asking my Ma and Pa for a ride seems kind of pointless, since they still live in Canada, y'know?"

Walking into class was always the same, greet the teacher, blah blah blah. And took his seat beside the redhead that sat to his right. He couldn't help but feel bored as time went on, looking out the window. He could not begin to imagine how his first week at Koah Academy had begun. Just seven seven ago.

-flash back-

_It took only a few hours to move his belongings into his new home, it wasn't much, just a small dining table and four chairs, a love seat for the living room, a good size TV. And a coffee table. His room was bare save for an army cot, and several plastic boxes containers for his clothes and a bag for his new school uniform.

If anyone walked in they would think the place was vacant or a hermit had lived there. But the young man was fine, he preferred not having much. Living with his family had taught him less was best. Especially when you were the eldest of a set of triplets.

_But that wasn't his main focus as of right now, what was. Was the weird looking belt buckle his father's friend had dropped off, along with a short note of how it is to be used. _

After reading it he was tempted to phone his father and ask if he went senile or that his mother knocked him around too much.

"... one way to find out." The boy said picking up the belt before attaching it to the front of his waist. "Here it goes."

Fang - "Joker"

_the small memory stick like devices announced as he pressed the small bottoms. Before sliding them into their colored slots._

"Hen... Shin!" He called out before swiping the slots to their respective sides. As the voice announced once again.

"FANG" - "JOKER"

Watching himself being covered in a pulsating wave of energy, the young man let out out beast like Roar as he felt undescribable power corssing through him.

"RRRRRRAAAAAAGH!" The Armored man cried out as his mind was clouded by the primal side of himself. Before finally claiming down. "What the fuck..."

Noticing that his tone of voice had became horses and more deeper in pitch, the young man looked at his hands noticing that one side was white and the other was black. He could feel his animal instincts trying to take over.

Though he was able to suppress the urge of going completely feral.

"Now. How to get. This Thing off." He said though barely as the primal Nature was fighting for control, making his way to the sheet of paper that laid on the floor proved to be difficult as he felt his mind being torn apart. Be for finally having the paper in hand. "To reverse.. transformation... take the GMS... out and pull belt off."

-end flashback-

As the young hero stared out the window, he felt his reflexes kick in as he wordlessly raised his hand up to catch a flying stick of chalk, that was flying at him.

But quickly changed his hands path to make it look like he was just going to scratch his chin. Only to hit in the center of his forehead.

No one seem to notice the quick change, save fore a certain redhead; whom had seen the young man move to intercept the small piece of chalk but choose not to, as she watched the banter between the new student and the teacher with an amused look on her face.

"Mr. Bowen, while i do know that my class is boring. You still need to pay attention, this will help you sometime in life." The teacher said turning back to his lesson, as the other students went back to taking notes.

As class went back to the normal routine of taking notes, listening to dull speeches, and answering redundant questions, all under repetition. Bowen sat looking outside, looking back to the first "monster" he had fought just last night.

-flashback-

_Jumping from building to building, durability to the amazing prowess of his new form. The Gold Driver Joker form. He could help but let out a shout of joy as he kept leaping higher and higher up, until he was on the highest point of the city._

Looking around vaste sea of glowing gems, Bowen was taken from this as one of the sensors in his helm went off beeping like an annoying smoke detector. Before screen on the left optic lens started to pinpoint the reason.

And he found it. Roughly on the other side of town, in the warehouse district. Was where he needed to be.

Jumping from the tall skyscraper, with an act of superhuman feats, KamenRider Joker soared through the air like a jet until he was half way to his destination, before he had to make the rest of the way on foot.

Entering the old building was setting of a new sensor, the Creep-the-fuck-out alarms in his head. The sounds of tapping that seemed to move all over the place, was really not helping.

"So... some costume fool thinks they can play hero?" Came a voice that sounded very much like a woman's if not a little bit more insane.

"I'm no hero, just a protector who happened to just recently moved to this corrupt city." He said before a heavy thud behind him caused him to turn around, but woshed he had not done so.

But what he saw, wasn't something he had been expecting. Before him stood a very very tall woman that looks like a Giant Praying Mantis, with a woman's upper body and head... a very naked upper body.

_"I dont know whither to smack you around or just wait here until you put a shirt on." He said somewhat confused as her human looking assets were on display and happen to be bouncing with each move she made. _

The being in question took offence to that remark, she thought herself to be beautiful as her former master had once thought before she killed her compilation and was chased off.

"Insolent brat!" The Mantis Woman screeched out as she took a swipe with her claws only see a bright flashback and the sound of her claw hitting something metal.

"METAL"

The Insectiod woman didnt know what had happen as she watched watched watched light faded and instead of a bisected man dressed in black, stood a whole man in a metallic steel color. with a metal bo-staff in hand, that had blocked her claw.

"Count up your crimes, because I'm sending you back to hell." The Metal man said as he pushed her claw away before using the staff like a baseball bat, striking her in her mid-section and sent her flying into the adjacent wall.

_"Better finish this quickly." The man in stellar said before pull in out a memory stick device. _

"TRIGGER."

_The Mantis Woman watch in awe as the man was once again covered in a bright light only to fade revealing same man dressed in blue. And on his right hip was a gun. _

_"I hope you made peace to your lords, because this will be fore final words." The trigger man saod as he took the memory from the belt device and slipped it into the gun before shifting it into a large gun. _

"TRIGGER MAXIMUM DRIVER."

_"Wait! Surely you wouldn't mind if i joined you? I Wil do __anything __you want!" The woman begged as she even cupped her breast when she said anything._

_knowing the insectiod was trying to buy time, Trigger ignored the woman's bleating, and pulled the trigger on his Trigger Magnum.

"Your words have been said, to the afterlife you shall be lead." He said turning around as the woman went up in flames, burning insect woman to ash.

-end of flashback-

It was during his lunch break that Bowen was ganged up on by the pervy-three.

"Well if it isnt the new guy." Said the glasses wearing teen, pushing his spects up letting them reflect the sunlight, giving the teen an ominous look. This was Motohama, of the three most despicable students that now attend Koah Academy.

"Yeah, so you came here to horn in on our women, uh?" Said a teen that had the lest amount of hair. This was Matsuda. The second member of the pervy-three.

The last member was a decent looking kid but he was known to be able to come up with new ways to call womens breast... which the kid thought was an accomplishment.

But for Bowen he looked at the three with pity.

"You sad, sad little virgins." Was all he said as he left the roof top, leaving the trio with an air of super depression. But he didnt get far before the lest member, who's name he had forgotten.

"Like you're not?!" He yelled at Bowen, who had stopped and turned back around and walked up to the boy before pulling out his cell.

The boy reacts reacts reacts reacts going to get stabbing until he saw the cell phone, bowen pressed the touch screen a few times before displaying an amateur video, that showed Bowen looking in the mirror for a few moments before exiting the bathroom, the reason why the three boy's began to have red faces and nosebleeds was that in the video was a drop dead gorgeous woman with Carmel skin, raven hair, amber brown eyes, a lovely set of c-cup breasts, a nice roughly ass, and a tight pussy with just a little bit of pubic hair cut into a diamond.

_"Bowen baby, put that phone away." _It was obvious that that woman spoke English as her native language, and the tattoo of a dream-catcher over left breast told them she was aboriginal decent.

"Oh come on baby, you know how wet you get when my friends see us fuck." It was here the prevy-three seen the dirty deed done before them.

Before it could proceed any further, the phone was pulled away from the three virgins, and the cruel sadistic smirk on Bowen's face as he looked at them. But something else made the boys feel worse. It was the tool they had seen in the video. He was three times they're own size, much to the boys' shame.

"What was it you preverted virgins said, that i was a virgin?" Bowen said with a cruel smirk on his face. Which made the three fall into another depression.

Leaving the three to their suicidal thoughts, about how pathetic they were.

Making his way through the halls of the school, he met one of the most beautiful women, he had ever seen... her long hair that was red as crimson blood, her skin as pale as the full moon, eyes as teal as the ocean. He had fallen for those beautiful eyes, no one should have such beautiful eyes, not on earth or the heavens themselves. What he didnt know was that this was true. These eyes were the eyes of of a predator, they were sharp, calculating, cunning, precise, and above all else mesmerizing.

He knew her from his home room, but never really got a good look at her until now.

Rias Gremory, one of the Greats ladies of Koah Academy long with her equally beautiful friend Akeno Himejima; who had hair as black as night, eyes like amethyst, the biggest breasts he had seen on a girl her age... hell the biggest tits he had seen in canada were Cs, without the woman becoming over weight or havng inplants, but since since moved to japan the was seeing sizes that were above the norm... 'maybe the growth hormones in the produce or in the meets, i wonder?'

nodding his head in greetings Bowen made his way to class, none the wiser that said redhead her friend were making plans about observing him in the near further.

As the day went on, bowen felt his phone go off a few times, since his father had giving him a unique type of phone which will go off when something Major was happening. In this case... a "monster" attack.

"Mitsuki-sensei, may i use the washroom?" Bowen asked respectfully, earning a nod from the teacher, thus leaving the class none the wiser that he ditched the school shortly after.

not knowing that a certain redhead had also left the grounds with her own companions.

Finding himself in one of the larger parks that was little over 3 miles square, with a large forest and small hills for hiking and camping, a good place to go all out without the risk of property damage or human lives to worry about. Tracking the energy to the more heavily forested area of the park only to stumble upon a massive rock valley.

"Why do i feel like im going to run into the power rangers here?" Bowen asked himself sarcastically knowing he just might if his father who had a run in with the mighty morphin' power rangers and the turbo rangers, So he just might run into the newer rangers sometime soon.

Sensing evil intent, bowen jumping quickly out of the way as something struck the grounds with an almost fearsome show of powerful strength as the ground was shattered into a crater.

"Well, well, well. I wonder who thought it was best to walk right into the wolf den?" Came a haughty tone that was very much female.

Looking up after tumbling down the cliff's side, bowen looked up to see a woman with wolf ears and tail, her fur was white as snow, her eyes were blue as ice, her figure was... toned and sexy. If the fur covered parts of her body were ignored but somehow she made it look like a fur covered cat... wolf suit. Pun much intended.

"Damn, so i have to fight a cute one? Damn that sucks." Bowen said slightly depressed, before summoning one of the drivers. "Gold Driver!"

slapping the single driver to his waist the driver belt fastened itself to him, before pulling out his base form Gaia Memory.

"JOKER!"

"Henshin!" The young lad yelled as he took a dramatic pose that held an air of class and charm about it, just as the stream of data and energy covered him. Once the light show faded, standing in his place was a fully black armored suited man.

"Who are you?" The wolfwoman asked glad to hear the new found threat.

"I am kamen rider... Omega." Omega said (AN: will refer to Bowen as Omega instead of gaia memory names for the sake of my sanity.) As he pointed toward the woman. "So count up your sins, and repent mother fucker!"

The opponent in question knew he was joking around or at least she had hope he was. But it didn't matter as she flexed her claws letting her full length nails out, the long black nails that could tear through steel, like wet soggy paper. "Omega? Sounds weak to me. I am Nijitsuki Okami (è™¹ æœˆ= rainbow moon ã,ªã,ªã,ªãfŸ = wolf) by the way."

"I am Omega, for i am the end of all that oppose me." Omega said as he took a low horse stance, while Nijitsuki hooked her fingers to make them look like claws. 'Got to make sure she doesnt get a hold on me with those claws of her's.'

Seeing the wolf girl, jump into the air and disappeared in a burst of speed, he would have been struck in the back had he not have noticed the ground shift behind him due to her presence. Turning just in time as he blocked the class strike aimed to his abdomen.

"Your good, but can you back that title of yours up?" She asked as started attack with even faster and savage fury.

Seeing that he wont be able to keep up with her superior speed or deadly claws, Omega thought of something that might work. Kicking her in her stomach to distance himself from her.

Omega stood up flicking the gold driver into the up right position. Before removing removing black Gaia Memory. Which disappear into a Pocket Dimension, before summoning a grey Gaia Memory.

""METAL!""

Nijitsuki watched as the black and purple suit transformed into a matted grey and a metallic silver. she came down with a powerful strike but the sound of her claws scratching against harden metal, had mad her grimace at the irritating noise for her overly sensitive ears.

"... and here i thought that only cats needed a scratching post." Omega said as he joked about her kinds mortal enemies the feline yokai.

"Shut up!" She yelled as went for a powered up punch only to tripped by the metal staff, which caused to fall onnhis back, before Omega drove the blunt side of the shaft into her stomach. Making her cough up blood from the blunt force trauma to her abdomen.

Rolling away from the ever changing man, nijitsuki flipped to her feet, while still holding her gut, the strength of the attack was painfully obvious if the broke ribs were anything.

"Fucken bastard." She growled in a low and threatening tone as fire seemed to flicker from between her clenched teeth. "Flaming Howl!"

Seeing the fire ball taking the form of a snarling wolf head, Omega jumped skyward to avoid the attack.

Switching the memory yet again.

""TRIGGER!""

changing from grey and silver to azure and cobalt blue. Though instead of a bo-staff there was a blue colored Magnum.

"Three out of four... not bad." Omega said to himself as he shot a few rounds at the girl only for her dodge his rapid fire shots. "Fuck this."

Pulling the blue Gaia Memory from the belt he loaded it into the oddly shaped gun, only to flip into a more accurate look.

""TRIGGER MAXIMUM DRIVER!""

"... Rider Shot!" Omega said firing with pinpoint accuracy.

The large explosion that erupted from where the young woman had stood was tremendous.

Walking away Bowen removed the gold driver, he had only made it a few feet before he heard a dark and ominous giggle, from behind him. Turning around almost mechanically, Bowen looked on in awe as the woman slowly stood up, her once pure white fur had become stained with soot and dirt. Her cryo-blue eyes had turned amber gold. Her flawless unblemished skin had gained tribal markings from the tip of her brow to the slope of her chin.

"I am really going to make you pay for that!" The woman as her features became even more feral.

"Oh for fuck sakes." Bowen muttered to himself as he knew there was only one memory that would probably work, but it was too unstable to be used. "I don't know if this one will work."

He soon brought his hand up summoning another driver, but this time it was a mirror shape of the first one she had seen, but this one had a silver slot instead of a gold. "Silver Driver."

""FANG!""

"Hen... shin." Bowne said as he had grown tired from the exertion he was pulled onto himself, but that quickly vanished as he let out a primal roar that shook the ground beneath him, as the white light covered him in a bright and blinding aura. "RRRRRRRAAAAAAGGGGGH!"

Standing in his place was a fully white armor with black highlights. Over the new looking buckle was the fang memory that was shaped like a dinosaur skull with a horn on the nose, the sharp look to the armor was vastly different from the other armored forms.

Looking at Nijitsuki, Omega jumped at her swiping a clawed hand at her, just as she did the same, locking their clawed hands with one another, it was Nijitsuki that spotted first.

"My aren't you the alpha type." She said with a throaty purr which seemed unnatural as she was of yokai canine breed, and not the feline kind. Her response was a head butt, as she stumbled back she heard the sound of small sounding roar... two of them.

""SHOULDER FANG!""

Pulling the large fang like blade from his shoulder armor to use as a dagger, Omega began to swing the blade wildly and in an almost animalistic kind of way, much to the woman's enjoyment as she began laughing merrily she was truly having the tip tip her life.

But like the saying goes, 'all good things must come to an end.'

Pinning her down to the ground with her hands above her head and her legs spread apart because of where he was positioned. It looked to be very sexual if someone came across this sight.

Without warning, the Silver Driver and the fang memory disappeared, causing Bowen to revert back to his normal form.

"Mmm, are you going to have your wicked way with me, My Alpha?" The wolf Yokai asked hauntingly as she playfully teased the young man on top of her by grinding her hips against his and pressing her luscious breasts against his chest.

Keeping his cool, Bowen looked the young young in the eye, fighting against his desire to look down at her body, which failed as he noticed she had returned to a more human look, of the vale like cloth that acted as a short skirted dress, it had left very little to the imagination as she didn't wear a bra or even panties if the moisture spot rubbing against his lower region had meant anything.

Nijitsuki knew she found herself a promising mate, if he was able to keep up with her despite the fact he used this weird looking power, which seemed so much like the Sacred Gears that the biblical God had given to man said anything about this young man's power, but she knew he wasn't using his full power, he had just tired himself out from switching to the different forms she had just witnessed only moments ago.

The heavy breathing from Bowen, told her he was almost ready to give in. Only to see him snap back to reality, and put some distance between himself and the young woman, whose eyes had once again become that royal black he had seen not long ago, but he had also seen that he was right with his guess, as he could see up the skirt which showed him a very juicy peach that made his mouth water a bit, or even the slight slip of her dress that gave Bowen a peek at her bountiful breast's perky rock hard nubs that were just begging to be like like like upon.

"Awe is the big alpha-" she never finished what she was going to say, as Bowen disappeared in a violent display of swirling shadow and fire. Seeing that he had left her high and not so dry, really seemed to have piss her off.

"FUCK!" She had yelled out in frustration as she slammed her fist into the ground, at finally finding herself capable mate, only for growl out in disappointment. But this disappointment turned into a fit of insane giggling, as she soon had a large fanged grin plastered on her face. "The Hunt Begins!"

With that the woman ran off to find her newly discovered mate, unknown to the former combatants. They had been watched from a far by a pair of teal blue eyes. A large and joyous grin was on the person's face. As they had watched the battle between a wolf yokai and what the person had once believed to nothing more than J-action/drama: A kamen rider.

Not only did she witness a REAL life Kamen Rider, but she now knew the identity of the mask rider calling himself Omega.

"This will most definitely change things to my favor." The hidden woman said with a not so pure purr in her tone, whether it was seeing a real Kamen Rider or the fact she now knew who it was... was up for debate. "Most definitely indeed."

Leaving much the same way she had arrive by use of a teleportation seal. The woman in question couldn't help but think that what she had seen today will change tomorrow's events like an avalanche. As she left she didn't notice she had been watched herself by two sets of ruby red lens.

"It would seem, big brother managed to find himself in trouble again, uh big sister?" The young man said, he looked exactly like how Omega looked in his fang form, but instead of black highlights it was a royal blue color. As he looked to his female counterpart, who also had a full white color seem, but had silver detailing instead of Fang's black and her male companion's blue.

"it appears so, little brother. Big brother is really troublesome." The woman said as shook her head in amused disappointment. "We better go... we still have to keep ourselves as a surprise for big brother for later."

As they turned to leave they both activated their respective Gaia Memories.

""CLAW!""

""BURST MAXIMUM DRIVER!""

""STINGER!""

""RAPID MAXIMUM DRIVER!""

As soon as their respective devices announced their maximum drives they vanished in quick bursts of speeds, becoming nothing but white blurs racing across the large park until they were out of sight.

"To be continued...?*"

3. Teal Colored Tears & Beast Trinity

Chapter Two

The Teal Colored Tears

And

The Beast Trinity Reforged

It was morning when Bowen awoke, but he didn't wake up like he normally had... no, to start off his day he had just awoken up to the sight which would scar him for life.

For the one laying beside him in his bed was the same woman he had fought the day before; Nijitsuki Okami. She was still wearing her dress from yesterday, so seeing a nip-slip this early in the day was... both a blessing and a curse.

Looking to his clock he saw that it was smashed to tiny pieces, so finding the time was impossible at the moment. But guessing how bright it was outside it would be late in the morning...

he had to go to school...

... and he had to deal with the woman in his bed...

"I hate my life." Bowen said as he got up and got ready, ignoring the woman's sleepy whines for him to stay in bed.

By the time he had gotten ready the woman was finally up, which for him wasn't a good thing.

"Why are you here, Nijitsuki?" Bowen asked in a dead tone, showing he was not pleased with the woman in his home, but said yokai woman didn't seem to notice or even bother by it.

"Why wouldn't I? You are my alpha mate after all so it's only natural for a bitch to stay with her alpha." Nijitsuki said as she gave a mega watt grin in response to his question. "You're going somewhere?"

"School." Was all he said as he left the house, not too keen on the fact he now had a roommate... against his will.

Looking to the heavens above, he could only sigh in irritation of the whole scenario.

"This is some fucken bull shit." he muttered as he mounted his Cosmos 2RWF motorcycle, just as he was about to pull out of his driveway, he felt the weight shift behind him. '... can today get anymore worse?'

it wouldn't be until he was at school, when he would soon realize that things would turn his life upside down.

It was during his lunch break that Bowen was approached by the ravenous redhead from his class, he took notice of how she had this hypnotic sway in her hips with each step she took, how her eyes told him 'I know something about you, that you don't want others to know.', or how the sinfully-graceful smile on her lips as she got closer with each step.

'I am not going to like this one bit... I just know it.' Bowen thought to himself letting out a heavy sigh, pinching his brow to rid himself of the oncoming headache. Bowen looked back to Koah Academy's Great lady. "Afternoon Rais-san, may I help you?"

Noticing his change in demeanor, told the young devil that he wasn't in the best of moods.

"good afternoon to you as well, Bowen-san." Rais greeted with the same courtesy Bowen had shown, but her smile shifted slightly into one that said she was planning something.

And though before she could ask anything more, she was rudely pushed to the side, as the woman from the day before had rushed towards Bowen before tackling him to the ground.

"Oh my alpha-sama, why didn't you wait for me?" Nijitsuki whined as she was clinging to his waist, much to his embarrassment and Rais' amusement. But that amusement was quickly changed to nervousness at what the woman said next. "alpha-sama, who is she?"

The quick shift from her icy blue eyes to burning amber, made Rais take an unconscious step back in fright.

"Nijitsuki, leave her alone." He said with such authority that the wolf yokai woman obeyed his order, only to turn back to him with lustful eyes. "Sorry Rais-san, but she... is a bit unhinged -hey!- due to being hit in the head a bit too much."

"That's quite alright... Omega-san." She said with a smile on her face as she took in the shocked looks on both Bowen and this Nijitsuki woman. But when she was about to pull her hand from behind her back, it made both Bowen and the one he reluctantly called his companion tense, as Bowen already had the Joker Memory and Gold Driver ready in hand, while Nijitsuki snarled a bit before having her claws extend. "But the reason I came here is to..."

By now Bowen and Nijitsuki had reacted first as Nijitsuki took her beast warrior form, letting wolf fur to cover her legs, arms, back, and the sides of her torso leaving the front bare. Her long and luscious white wolf tail swaying back and forth, while her black hair had switched to snow white hair. (Think of Super Saiyan 4 but with fur and a wolf's tail.)

her growls were of the threatening kind as her teeth grew in size. Beside her Bowen had already equipped the Gold Driver.

"JOKER!"

"Henshin!" Bowen said as he slammed the memory into the gold slot, while flicking it into his secondary position.

"JOKER!"

But instead of fear or even a sadistic smile on the girl's face, Omega seen one of complete awe and jubilation.

"Is to ask... CAN I PLEASE HAVE YOUR AUTOGRAPH!?" said the redhead as she brought out a large book with the pictures of the Kamen Rider W tv show. This caused Omega to fall forward faceplanting into the roof of the school, along with Nijitsuki who was just as stumped as her proclaimed alpha.

the actions of which caused Bowen to de-morph back into his normal form along with Nijitsuki; who moved to cover her sizeable breasts from view.

Picking himself up, Bowen casted a minor glare towards the girl... he could not fault her for being a japanophile, since he was a transformers-fanatic, and a minor one in gundam series.

"Fine." He groaned out with some amusement, as he took out a pen and wrote the greek letter Omega on the KR - W booklet.

Seeing the redhead act like a hyperactive child on a sugar rush made bowen's smile just a little bit brighter, this was not lost to Nijitsuki who felt a little jealous, but ultimately knew that as an Alpha he was entitled to more than one woman.

But when bowen let out a small bark of laughter it caused the Chibiredhead to regain control of her composure.

"Ahem. I hope that little bit stays between us, and also thank you. I have been a fan of yours since your show ended six years ago." She said with enthusiasm.

"Sorry to break it to you, Rais-san. But i just recently became a Kamen rider a week ago." Bowen said in an apologetic tone, as he rubbed the back of his neck. "And to be honest the Kamen rider tv show actually inspires a certain group to make certain heroes."

"You mean?" She asked looking with hopeful eyes.

"Yes, around the world there are different Kamen Riders, each protecting a large city, and Some even work as a Police or Military Force aiding existing riders. I am just a new guy on the block and Kouh City is my protectorate."

If he didnt know better he would have sworn Rais' s teal eyes grew twice the size and looked like teal marble as tears of worship and admiration shinning through.

Without even thinking, Rais grabbed hold of both Nijitsuki and Bowen's hands and took them from the roof and raced through the school halls and outside until they had reached the old school building.

Now standing in an occult themed room, Bowen was piecing together the images he had seen as Rais had dragged him to this new room in an unholy speed.

"5 seconds... in a distances of 700 meters... in the addition of the 55 meters in both buildings. Bringing it up to 8.567 seconds." Bowen said before calming his stomach from the near instant movements, Nijitsuki was not so lucky as she found herself clinging to a trashcan for dear life, while emptying her stomach. Looking back to the girl he felt something g was most definitely off. "Rais, what exactly are you?"

His question made her nervous, as she noticed she may have went overboard with her decision.

"Well as you know my name is Rais Gremory, what you do not know is-" she was cut off when Bowen's gave her a sharp look.

"The Heiress of one of the 72 Houses of the Underworld. You older Brother was once Sirzechs Gremory later Lucifer as leader of the four great devil lords. You also have as of this moment; a queen, a bishop, a knight, and a Rook. While on stand by are all eight pawns and the remaining bishop, knight and Rook." Bowen said knowing exactly who she is, from the every first moment he had laid eyes on her, but he would attack her if she did not harm the innocent and from what he had seen was yes they made deals with mortals but they would only take some magic aura as payment instead of souls like long ago. Meaning he had no reason to go after her. "Also you are engaged to some guy name Raiser... and judging by the look you are not exactly thrilled about him. Am i wrong?"

Rais looked like she had be slapped as she looked at this boy... no one his man who had just told her; he knew about not only who she was, but whom she had in her peerage and the despicable man she was engaged to.

"No, you are most correct. you know enough about me it would seem almost unhealthy." She said jokingly teasing him like he was a stalker. But seeing thst he wasn't laughing along with her made rais feel out of place.

In truth bowen found it quite funny, but he was straining to keep himself indifferent toward the girl, choosing to reframe from causing any more awkwardness for the young woman. Bowen gave a slight sigh.

"Look, i can probably guess why you brought me here and for the reason. I am honored but i have to refuse." Bowen said bowing to the girl who worn the face of shock and disappointment.

"I will give you anything you want just name it!" Rais pleaded knowing that if he left she would never get a piece like him ever again. "Even if it means my body, and soul i will give them to you!"

Stopping at the door, bowen felt himself become sick of how she was trying to buy his services. Even Nijitsuki who chose ro stay silent though all of this knew it wasn't something to say to him, he had honor, he had a heart that was but brave and good. she knew he would have helped her if she had asked him to. But to sell yourself like a cheap whore, wasn't something would ever approve of.

Seeing him turn around Rais had thought she had gotten t hrought to him.

"Duel Driver." Bowen said as he summoned the duel driver.

""FANG!" - "BOOSTER!""

"Henshin!" He yelled completely angry at how this woman he had given respect to, was acting.

""FANG - BOOSTER!""

"Rais Gremory, i believed you were once above such things, but seeing you so desperate to make yourself like a whore, trying to buy my loyalty friendship the way you are now is insulting." Omega said in a dark cruel tone, his anger was suppressing his primal side into total submission. "To both myself and you."

Turning to leave, Omega gave a sharp bark of an order.

"Nijitsuki!" He called with complete dominance which caused the other woman to stand at attention, followed by a 'yes sir?'. "Come we are leaving, Rais."

The young redhead looked up to see Omega giving what she believed to be a soft look beneath his helm, but asked in a shacking tone of fear and hope. "Y-yes?"

"Can you tell Mitsuki-sensei that i was feeling ill and had gone home." He said calmly, before leaving the building with Nijitsuki right behind him. Only a moment later she could hear Nijitsuki curse out Omega/Bowen name, for leaving her behind... again.

leaning back into her chair, Rias felt like she took one step forward with nine steps back. She knew it was her fault but she was desperate. She only had a few years left and if she knew Raiser aswell as he hope she did, he would most likely try and move ghe secluded date a head to sometime this year.

"What am i going to do?" She asked herself, she had just driven off her only hope to actually win a match but also stop Raiser's side up is engagement.

She stewed in her-self loathing long into the night, even her peerage members knew something was off with how dead she appeared to the world.

It was late that evening when Bowen was leaping through the city, he had left Nijitsuki sleeping at home alone, knowing she would cause trouble when he was out working.

It was almost midnight and he knew tonight would be a quite one, so he pondered to himself if he had over reacted when Rais had made the offer to him to join her, silently bowen hated himself more when he saw desperation in her eyes, she was willing to give him anything he wanted just to get herself out of that engagement. Even if it ment offering herself to him.

"... i hate being the good guy." He muttered to himself as he pulled out his phone, before typing out a name in the search engine.

It toom only a few minutes but he found her... still at the school.

"Just once i want a normal night, it is all im asking." He begged the higher power but ultimately knew his plead would go unanswered.

Standing on the roof of the old building, omega in his joker for. Snuck into the old school. With out a sound. Taking small steps so he could surprise the girl.

Once he found the class room where her club room was, omega proceeded to enter the room, he found who he was looking for sleeping on the oak desk she had been sitting behind on his first visit. But something was off, he notice she no longer had that beautiful smile instead she wore a frown that did not match her beauty. But also there was dried tears staining her cheeks and the notes she was laying on.

Moving over to the girl he picked her up and moved her to the couch so she could sleep peacefully and comfortably. But when he saw that notes on the table had Omega written on them he was curious.

_ - October 9 2015. _

_ Dear Diary, _

_ I can believe they exist! I saw a real life Kamen Rider! And not only that but he is the new boy in my class; Bowen Odinson. He recently moved to Kouh City from Canada. He has the coolest Kamen Rider powers next to Decade. he uses the Gaia Memories from Kamen Rider W. at first i thought it was a trick of light when i first saw him fighting a stray devil a Mantis woman. But now i seen him fight this Yokai wolf woman and beat her... i couldn't say i didnt blush when i saw how intimate they got after fighting or how the Wolf girl so in followed after him. Tomorrow im going to ask if would join my peerage or if that fails ask him to become an ally._

_ Sincerely, _

_ Rais Gremory._

_ October 12 2015_

_ Dear Diary, _

_ I made a fool out of myself, i not only insulted myself but also Bowen when i begged him to join me... i should have known someone hing like this would happen..m kamen riders are not ruled by their selfish Desires, but by selfless desires to protect and aid those that can not... i wish i would have known better than to assume he would be like other men who only lusts after Rais Gremory's body, instead i made myself look like a cheap whore. I dont know what to do. _

_ My peerage members are not strong enough, and Jasper is still in isolation to learn how controll his powers. _

_ No doubt Raiser would try and move our so called wedding day to sometime this year... i was so desperate for help i over looked Bowen's moral honor and and show disrespect towards him..._

_ I need help... and i dont know what to do.._

_ R._

Looking up from the girls journal, bowen felt his heart go to this girl. She need his help and he had all but told her to fuck off. Placing the journal down bowen walked up to the sleeping beauty, and stroked her hair.

"... Rais Gremory." He said as his hand traveled to cup her tear stained cheek, rubbing the dried tears with his thumb. "Let your enemies beware, for those thwt oppose you will met their end by my hands."

Standing up Omega, open to a new page of her journal, taking a large thick marker he drew a stylish Omega symbol with the Gremory crest in the center.

Leaving small book on the desk, omega brought out a blanket and covered the sleeping girl, before leaving the room through the window.

-two days later-

It was Wednesday after noon when Bowen decided to go to school, since yesterday was extremely awkward for Rais who had yet to read or see the mark he left behind for her the day before, so today he wanted to relax a bit at home, much to Nijitsuki's pleasure since she was able to prance around the house in Nothing but her birthday suit.

But now he sat in the school roof top over looking the student body move around the grounds, kids enjoying lunch, a small game of soccer, or the kendo club's past time of chasing and beating the pervy-three with thier wooden swords.

But as he watch the on goings of the school life below, he caught sight of red hair in the distance closing in fast. Looking down at her, he couldnt help but see the grin on her face as was trying not to use her devil powers or wings to meet him faster than she currently was.

It was roughly ten or so minutes before Rais had finally reached the roof. And Bowen's cocky grin but excited and annoyed her all at once.

"Finally seen it uh." It was more a statement than a question one which made her blush.

"So you-"

"The answer is no, i will not join hour peerage, but should you need my help i am willing to aid you in your time of need, just give me a call." He said walking past her while Palming her a card with his phone number on it. "And i'll be there."

Faraway from where the devil and rider were standing, the two masked riders from before watched with uncertainty hidden beneath their red lenses.

"This is... problematic isn't, sister?" The one with the Stinger Gaia Memory asked as he looked to his left.

"I am unsure, big brother seems to know what he is doing." The woman with the Claw Gaia Memory said with her slender hand resting beneath her chin, in a thinking posture. before coming to an obvious thought. "I believe big brother has fallen just like father had with mother."

Looking to her little brother beside her, whom had shared a similar thought to his older sister.

"i wonder if Mama would approve of her?" The man said with the Stinger Gaia Memory, before both he and his sister shuttered at the thought of thier pissed off mother.

Sitting in his living room while reading a booklet of a diagram for the Gaia Memory details, but right now he was reading up the Maximum Driver abilities for his memories. Or how they work with their partnered Gaia Memory.

He found it worth reading, since he didnt want to go into battle half cocked. But looking up from his book, he saw Nijitsuki laying infront of him with her back against his legs. The light snores she made told him she was fast asleep.

"Guess i should get to bed." He said, standing up and pick the yokai girl up, and took her the spare room.

After tucking the girl into bed, he was just about to go to bed himself until his phone went off.

-Threat Level 6-

Appeared on his phone, that was two levels higher than Nijitsuki and almost twice the level of the Mantis woman.

Quickly reading through the data and location, Bowen had already threw on his biker jacket and was out the door. Before he sped off into the night.

-30 minutes later-

Arriving at the docks, bowen stepped off his motorcycle, before summoning his Duel Driver.

""FANG - METAL!""

"Henshin." Bowen said as he was transformed into his rider form.

Pulling his metal-staff from his back, and began search in the docks for the monster level threat. it wasn't until his fourth building did he find the after math of his prey.

Corpses littered the ground, each of them had slashes and stabbing wounds, some of them were crushed by a large circle like object.

He knew of only one person that had these kind of weapons, but the odds of that person being here were few and it was just his speculation right now.

A sharp whistling sound alerted him to an in coming projectile, rolling to side to dodge the threat. He was greeted to the sight of a large spear made from Gold and Black.

"Achilles." He said as he looked up to the seven foot tall man dressed in gold and black armor, who had pulled his spear from the ground.

"So you know who i am, but i do not know you mortal of two colors."

The Spartan themed warrior said as he raised his shield and spear to be ready for combat.

"Achilles; The Queen's Knight." Omega said as he gauged the legendary warrior's reaction, he wasn't disappointed when he saw the man's face being set into a permanent frown and a deep growl of anger escaping the man's throat. "I know you because of my mother, Daemona Cadivi-Solis."

"So... you are Mistress Deamona's child?" The ancient hero said glaring at the young man.

"Eldest of Three." omega said as he extended the metal shaft. Into its full bo-staff form.

"Enough words mortal, have at thee!" The spear user said as he thrust his spear forward, aiming to stab the young man's heart. But to his anger the young lad twirled around slamming his staff down, bending the golden spear.

"I you fight worst than my sister, and she had mastered a spear type weapon." Omega said angering the old warrior even more.

"You dare insult my honor!"

"I dare, and so much more." Omega yelled back in a mocking tone, before jumping out of the way from a spear thrust. Drawing out his fang memory.

""FANG.""

Sliding the Fang Gaia Memory into the slot on the Metal-staff made the once great greek hero to pause in amazement. As he watched Omega flick the horn on the memory once followed by a small roaring sound.

""METAL-FANG: FANG SPEAR!""

Seeing that one end of the Metal-staff the one end of of the Metal-staff stayed extended, while the other side sank back into the shaft, but the side that returned to its pre-used form had a large fang style blade fused to it. It was a japanese style Halberd.

"Now count up your crimes and repeat for your sins." Omega said as he swung his new weapon slicing the golden black shield in half.

"how?! It is impossible for anyone to damage my armor! Hephaestus himself made them to withstand any weapon made by Man!" The warrior yelled in anger, as he watched his shield slowly began to erode and becoming nothing but rusted and brittle metal.

"You are right, no weapon made by man could harm your weapons or armor... save for what i yield, Weapons forged by Gaia herself. It is from her who had given me the means to exact retribution on those that dared abandon my mother." Omega said in a cold tone, as he rested the Halberd on his shoulder, using his index finger; he used the Fang horn as a trigger. Causing it to roar twice.

""METAL-FANG: FANG SCYTHE!""

"Now i will get my vengeance!" Yelled the rider as he swung the scythe low aiming for the warrior's legs, only to miss, but following his first attack, Omega used to butt end of the shaft to strike Achilles in the center of his chest launching sailing through several large crates.

Seeing how he was beginning to slow his battle, Achilles discarded his spear and drew out his sword.

"Half-breed scrub!" his mother's former Queen's Knight yelled as he charged forward with his sword ready to cut him down.

""Roar-Roar-Roar."

""METAL-FANG: MAXIUM DRIVER!"

""MAXIUM DRIVER!"

"MAXIUM DRIVER!"

"MAXIUM DRIVER!"

Pulling trigger on the shaft, omega released the stored energy thst had built up over the course of the battle.

"Now repent You Ugly MotherFucker!" He yelled as he dashed forward, the Fang-scythe glowing a blood amber color as he swung his weapon in a fury of attacks.

Though being the warrior he was, Achilles was just barely able to block the attacks from the young half-breed.

As he parried Omega's finally attack, he had grown angry that a half-breed was able to not only be able to keep on par, but was able to destroy his shield.

"I will not fall to a fucking HALF-BREED!" the man yelled as he did a swift kick into omega chest sending him flying back.

the man's raged induced kick had caused Bowen to de-morph, who had began to roll after hitting the ground.

Seeing his enemy down, Achilles started to walk toward the young man, fury burned in the older man's eyes, his grip on his sword had made his hand bleed, but his rage blinded him to the pain. But even in his state he quickly moved out of the way avoiding the cone shaped needle that would have struck his heel.

Turning to where it had came from he saw two other masked Riders. Both shared the same style with the one he had just fought.

"Who dares to interrupt my battle!" Achilles yelled in anger.

"it seems she was right, Achilles is all brawn and no brain. Dont you agree sister?" The man asked the woman beside him.

"Yes, but i think for now we protect big brother." The woman said as she jumped and kicked Achilles in the chest sending him sliding across to the other side of the warehouse.

"Can i give big brother his weapon now? It is being to give me a rash form carrying it across the city for the last week." The young man said as he took the large bundle from his back and letting it hit ground with a heavy thud.

"... yes. But get him up, if Achilles is to be defeated we must work together." She said guarding both her older and younger brothers.

"On it." The man said before swiftly spinning until he was now face the down teen. "Bowen get up... Miranda is pregnant, and mother is angry."

In a quick display of speed and fright, bowen was sitting up fear written on his face as he spoke in his defense.

"It isn't mine Mama! I always used protection!" Bowen said before gettin his senses back and noticed a white suited man beside him. "Goddamit, Le Rago! (I might have just t as Lerago in the future.) Dont joke about that and it isn't funny..."

but quickly noticed that his brother and sister were here, also the similarities between his Fang memory and these new ones.

"Brother this is yours." Le Rago said as he pulled the bundle beside to hand to Bowen, only to see that his big brother could barely lift the wrapped weapon.

"What the hell is this?" Bowen asked as he lifted the 140 pound (63.5 kg) weapon with some difficulty. Unwrapping the hidden weapon he wss greeted to the sight of beautifully crafted sword, that looked to be used with the Gaia Memories.

"Brother this is the Joker Sword. (Just the Accel Sword with the Joker color scheme)" his brother said as he stood up, but not before asking for something he thought he wouldnt hear. "Brother can you give me and Sis the trigger and metal memories?"

"like need to ask." Bowen said as he stood up dragging the heavy sword behind him, before tossing the requested memories to his brother. Stabbing the sword into the ground, he then summoned his duel driver.

"Sister, Catch!" Le Rago called out as he tossed his sister a gaia memory, whow had jumped back to stand beside her brothers.

"shall we, brothers?" She asked de-morphing, along with her little brother.

"That we shall, Angela." Bowen said greeting his little sister.

Achilles looked at the three children of his former king. The girl looked so much like her mother, short dark red Pixy style hair, a narrow face that was both elegant and beautiful, her and Red eyes stood out. The red eyes were most likely her father's, but the youngest had Blues of his mother, and had blond with black highlights hair, he had more of a narrow jaw, his also had his hair sliced back.

Looking to the one he had been fighting he had his mother's hair and eyes, but the looks of his father.

""FANG-JOKER!"

"henshin!" Bowen yelled as he took his default form and took hold of the sword and found it to be lighter... like a normal sword's weight.

""CLAW - METAL!"

"Henshin!" Angela said as she flicked her duel driver. The white and silver with the Grey and silver coloured armor appeared, seeing his sister's weapon being the default 'Claw Scythe' was amusing.

""STINGER - TRIGGER!"

"henshin!" Le Rago said in a lazy fashion, letting his armor become white/blue and azure/cobalt. After fully transforming he hoisted his Trigger-Stinger onto his shoulder.

Before Achilles stood the fully transformed warriors, he felt something he had never felt since his death centuries ago. Fear, fear of death.

"Now count up your crimes!" Sonja said with a smirk hidden beneath her helm, while letting the scythe rest on her shoulder.

"And find repentance for your sins." Le Rago said as he cranked his neck letting the joints pop, but carried his rifle much the same way as his brother and sister.

"Before we send you off to hell." Bowen said as he squatted down into a crouch while having the sword rest on his shoulder giving him a delinquent kind of look.

"You insolent brats! I will have your heads!" Achilles said before being he rushed at them with the intent to kill.

The triple sounds of three roars told him they were more than ready for him.

""FANG SWORD MAXIMUM DRIVER!"

""CLAW SCYTHE MAXIMUM DRIVER!"

""STINGER RIFLE MAXIMUM DRIVER!"

"Pray to god for mercy Achilles." Sonja said as she pulled her scythe back, preparing for a powerful finishing swing.

"For we will not show any to you." Le Rago said as he took a knee and aimed his rifle at the ancient warrior with his gun sights.

"Now prepare for your death... Traitor!" Bowen yelled as he and Sonja swung their weapons unleashing power waves of energy that formed and 'X' shape, before Le Rago fired his Trigger Stinger in the center of the X making the three powerful attacks forged into a single attack.

"Trinity Maximum Driver: TRIPLE STRIKE!"

The siblings yelled as the combine attack closed in on their target.

As the attack struck a massive explosion emerged consuming Achilles in the wake of their attack.

When the fires and smoke died down, Achilles was on his knees perfectly fine. But it was the one standing there with his hand exerted blocking the attack.

"Dahaka." Bowen spat the name out like it was poison.

"Lord Bowen." The eight foot tall man said with a small bow of his head, acknowledging the boy as his better. Before looking to the greek hero. "Achilles, you left without permission... lord and lady Balthazar are most disappointed."

With a wave of his shadow covered hand the warrior sank into the ground, leaving no trace of him being there.

Turning his attention to the sibling, the giant of a man looked over each of the riders.

"Lord Bowen, Lady Sonja, Lord Lerago. Please accept my humblest apologies for the inappropriate behaviour of Achilles." Their mother's former Queen said bowing to them, when he looked up the noticed a seal placed upon his brow.

It was a slave seal, meaning they did not betray their mother willingly.

"Young masters, what is to come will be very dangerous... please take these they will aid you in your battles to come. But know this when we fight... it is as unwilling enemies." Dahaka said as he tossed three unique Gaia Memories to them. "Until we met again young masters."

He disappeared by sinking into black sand, leaving the siblings there to look at the new memories.

When they where sure that they were now safe, they noticed each memory was suited tl them. Although they had a ribcage design to them.

"Abyss!"

"Inferno!"

"Eternal!"

Looking at each other, bowen seen that Sonja had caught the Inferno memory, while Lerago had caught the Abyss memory. Looking down at the Eternal memory, Bowen clutched his hand over the memory as he looked to his siblings.

"We will free them from their enslavement." Bowen said earning nods from his brother and sister. "Lets go."

4. THE RIDER VS THE FIRE SORCERER

Chapter 3

The Rider

The Fire Sorcerer.

Bowen and his siblings sat in that kitchen table, each looking at one of the three Gaia Memories that Dahaka had given them.

"Um, Big Brother. Do you think Dahaka was trying to trick us or perhaps was telling us the truth?" Lerago asked looking up from his Abyss Memory, as did Sonia from the Inferno Memory.

Gazing down at the Eternal Memory, Bowen could feel something was off from these New Memories. They had a different theme to them, while his Gaia memories were more of a crystal like theme, these new ones had a skeletal theme.

"Sonja, give papa a call and have him ask his friend to take a look. I think Dahaka was trying to help...though why give use these memories since they can not work with our drivers. Unless..." Bowen said thoughtfully before whipping out his cell phone.

"_Hello, this is Bulder Odinson, of Odinson Corp. How can I help you today?" _

"Hey, Papa. It's Bowen... I was wondering if you can take a look at something for me?"

"_Sure, son. What is it you need your old man to look into?" _asked cheerful voice from the other end.

"Just three new Gaia memories that Lerago, Sonja, and I found." He said simply, only for a silent pause that lasted a moment or so as the father of the Kamen Rider Triplets thought for a moment.

"_Sure, just use the main driver and activate the transporter and I will see what I could do." _Bulder said with a unseen smile on his face.

"Alright, papa." Omega said as he and his siblings sent their new Gaia memories to their father.

It didn't take more then a second before their father spoke once more.

"_Bowen, Sonja, Lerago. Please tell me you did not use these memories?"_ asked their father the enthusiasm and joyous behaviour long gone from his voice.

"No, Papa." The three of them said together, before letting Bowen finish the conversation with their father. "we sent them to you, knowing they may be dangerous."

"_smart kids I have, you did good. The three of you. These are not Gaia Memories... they are Urunos Memories. They would increase your power but at the cost of your life... we're did you get them?"

"Dahaka had gave them to us, also he had a Slave Mark on his forehead, we believe that mama's peerage was enslaved and they were forced to betray her." Bowen said only to hear no response from his father.

"... _boy, you get in more trouble than your mother and I combined, back when we first met. Don't do anything to stupid_." Came a cheeky remark from his father before the man gave a sigh. _"look these new memories will take a better part of a week to get cleared, and I'm working on a set for you Bowen. Be careful." _

"yes, papa." Bowen said ending the call, before looking to his younger brother and sister. "well until such a time when we could use those memories, it would be best if you kept the Metal and Trigger Memories until papa has given us the new ones."

"understood big brother." Sonja said letting it be known she was not thrilled with the waiting but knew it was necessary.

"Soo, big brother... about this Rias girl..." Lerago said showing his mischievous side with a wide smile and toothy grin. "is she your new æ"

He was quickly silenced when Bowen casted a dark glare to the boy.

"one more word about her, and I will make sure that your will eat through a straw for eight months." The eldest of the Odinson siblings said as he stood up and left the room. this night had done a number on him... the up and coming test tomorrow wasn't going to help him.

-zzz-

The next few days had been off putting, both his siblings had join Kouh Academy, Sonja joined the girls soccer team, Lerago was regrettably recruited into the now prevy-quartet... may the kendo club spare his innocent soul.

Looming over the edge of the school's roof, Bowen watched as his baby brother was beaten for being associated with the pervy-trio. It was funny since Lerago was trained to dodge such slow attacks and would have been weaving between them if not for the fact he didn't do well under pressure.

"Enjoying yourself, Bowen-kun?" Came a voice he knew all to well, turning to see a familiar redhead standing behind him with a soft questionable look on her face.

"I guess you could say that." Bowen said as he took another bite of his lunch which was just a homemade stake and cheese sub. "Found anything?"

"No, the Balthazar family has been erased from the 72 pilasters back in the first holy war, along with a few of the other families including the Old Satans lords before my brother became the new Lucifer." Rias said as she gave an irritated sigh at how scarce the information was on the family, but it begged the question... 'why does he want to know about that particular family?'

She would have asked if the bell didn't interfered with her train of thought, seeing Bowen was leaving she decided to follow him to class.

"Rias-chan, I know you are wondering why I asked for this information, but please know... if it endangers you or anyone close to you... I will tell you." He said as he continued down the stairs, before grinning up to the girl. "So don't worry."

"Even if it excludes you?" She asked looking worriedly down at the masked rider.

"If it's me... just don't worry to much." Bowen said as he and Rias made it to class for the afternoon.

It would be two days before Bowen was notified that a new threat had appeared.

Threat Level 2-

"Small fry..." Bowen say as he had been drive around town on his Cosmos 2RWF, before doing a U-turn and started to speed towards the spike in energy had been.

-5 minutes later-

""JOKER!""

"Henshin!" Bowen yelled as he was encased in his joker armor. What he had seen made his blood boil, when he arrived.

Before him was Issei of the pervy-trio, in a pool of his own blood, the cause of his injury was sitting on the side of a water fountain.

"Who are you?" She asked in a bored tone, her face told him she did not care of the boy's life, but it was her eyes' that that said she regretted killing him.

Looking down to Issei, Omega clutched his fist in anger... he could have saved a life in had moved just a little bit faster. Turning back to the fallen angel.

"Why?" It was a simple question, but it had the complicated answer.

"You would not understand." She said standing up, but also refused to look at the masked rider.

"Is it because of his Sacred Gear?" Omega asked making the young woman to look at him in shock. "He didn't have to die, he could have lived without even activating the gear, but now because of your foolish folly, his gear had been awoken. Isn't that right Rias?'

Appearing from her porting seal, she looked at Omega with a nod. Turning to the fallen angel, Bowen drew his sword.

"I know you planned for this Rias, but we will discuss this later." Omega said before focusing on the fallen angel. "I am Kamen Rider: Omega, may have your name."

"Raynare of the Grigori." She said summoning a holy light spear. "You know I always thought that kamen riders were just make believe heroes on TV."

"Sometimes heroes on TV inspires us to become what this world need to keep the balance of peace." Omega said as he readied his sword. "Know this... I do regret this, you are just an innocent doing what one would do out of fear."

"... yeah." She said just above a whisper.

""JOKER Maximum Driver!""

"I will not kill you, but know this... this will be you one and final warning. Commit such vile acts again... I will _End _you." Omega said before pulling the trigger on his Joker Saber.

""JOKER STRIKE!""

slashing his sword downwards, Omega had unleashed an unstoppable attack that tore the ground for a good 40 meters before the attack ended.

looking at the devastating power he possessed, Raynare was terrified. She knew she would not have lived if he closed to end her there. But she had a small moment of clarity.

'Is going down this path worth it?' She thought to herself as she took a step back before turning around and flew off as fast as her wings could carry her. Her regret of killing Issei forgotten as fear of this unknown warrior stood guarding the Devil and now her new Peerage member.

Turning back to see Rais placing Five Pawn into Issei, Bowen knew the boy was now a devil. Giving a sigh, Bowen de-morphed. And now stood beside Issei.

"Rais, we are going to have a little chat." He said before mounting his bike and drove off, likely back to the school.

"... once again, one step forward and nine steps back." She said to herself as she let her familiar take to unconscious boy, back to his home. Before leaving much how she arrived.

-former Kouh school building, current ORC building-

Opening the door, Bowen walked inside the room where Rais had made as her base of operations. He strolled to where the large couch was before the large Oak desk, behind which Rais sat with a neutral look on her face but he could see the remorse look in her eyes.

Sitting down, the kamen rider and the clan Heiress engaged in a staring contest between each other. But it was the rider that spoke first, making his thoughts known.

"You knew, didn't you." He said more as a statement than a question making the redhead nod though she didn't lift her eyes to look at him.

"Yes, I did." She said looking down in shame.

"Why did you not tell me?" Bowen asked while looking up to the ceiling.

"I thought-"

"You thought you could handle it, but also you slipped up. Letting your enemies know your movements and interests since you think you have everything under control because your family has this city under their protection." Bowen said looking back at the girl with a soft glare, before letting out a sigh. "Rais... Kouh city is also under my protection as a Rider, and as any Rider; I must protect all of Kouh city's people regardless if they are angel, fallen, devil, Yokai, or human from any and all threats to the peace."

Looking up from her desk, as teal eyes met blue. Rais could see that while he was not pleased with her actions, he was willing to give a second chance.

"Bowen-kun... I promise should anything occur that threatens an innocent or the peace, I will call you immediately." Rais said standing up and bowed to the rider.

She would have continued this if Bowen didn't flick her forehead. Earning him a glaring pout.

"Rais... which pieces do you have left?"

"Three pawns, a bishop, a knight, and a rook." She said looking at him with a queried eyebrow

Pulling out his phone, Bowen typed a quick message to an 'unknown' recipient.

"Better get the pieces out." He told her with an coy smirk, which she gleefully did as she was asked.

It was fifteen minutes later when Lerago and Sonja came into the room, and saw their brother sitting across from a Rais Gremory playing a game of chess. With the red-haired glaring at the smirking Burnette, who was winning as he still had 6 of his eight pawns, both rooks, a bishop, a Knight, and the queen. His king was safely placed behind a row of pawns.

While she was down to a Pawn, a knight a and a bishop.

"Check in two, Rais-chan." Bowen said with a sly grin.

"Um.. sis... what am I seeing?" Lerago asked in confusion, as the message said 'urgent come now, ORC room.'

"I believe brother has... just enlisted us as freelancers to Rais' Peerage." Sonja said face-palming as she groaned in annoyance, telling her baby brother; what her elder brother may have... no, Has done without their knowledge.

"...fuck..." was all the youngest could say as knowing they have an employer of sorts now.

"Correct assumption, Sonja. But we will not be full-fledged members but an off and on employment with Rais Gremory for clearing out Rogues and Strays that may pop up in Kouh city." Bowen stated as he removed Rais' last knight from play, moving a rook to place with the next move in check. "we will not be taking any of her more valued pieces just the spare pawns she has, while I will be the main Liaison between the Trinity Riders and Gremory household, you two will just clear stray and Rogues that cause trouble... but should any of you find anything related to the Balthazar family or Them. call me."

Before any the younger Odinson children could retort, Bowen simple said 'checkmate' causing the redhead to whine about her loss. Seeing that their brother had won, it was Sonja that made her thoughts clear.

"Are you saying, that we are being paid to do something that we would normally do for free?" Asked the only female of Odinson siblings, her way of saying made it seem like it was scandalous and inappropriate.

But Bowen and Lerago knew it was anything but disapproving.

"what are the rates?" Lerago said showing his greed, much like his sister both of whom had inherited the demonic bloodline from their mother, since temptation into sin was much more easily to them than their brother Bowen.

"One- 100.00, two-200.00, so and so forth. Since there is no shortage of Rogues or Strays, it just a matter of you three eliminating them." Rais spoke up after schooling her features though she still glared at the boy across from her, only form him to wave off her glare as he stood up.

"So, shall we begin?" Asked he went to stand beside his brother and sister, the young Heiress gave a saddle nod before raising from her seat and fetched what she would need.

when she returned, she was carry a small silver case.

Bowen had seen her do this with Issei, and was prepared for what ever piece she would be giving him.

But what happened shocked everyone as none of the current chess pieces would react to them, even trying to forcefully infuse the pieces into them was met with a violent rejection.

Then Bowen thought of something which might work.

"Hey Rais, we could were them as a charm since we would technically belong to your Peerage correct?" The eldest child asked as the thought was shared with the red-haired beauty.

"I believe so, but they would have to bare my person crest to ensure others will know you belong under my protections, and act as my personal agents." The young Gremory stated before grabbing the three remaining pawns and began to infuse her demonic essence into the small chess pieces.

Once she was done, the white pawns had become a black in color, with her sealing crest on display in a crimson red. Once she done, she handed each Pawn to their new owners, ending with Bowen. They stay holding hands a little longer than necessary, the younger siblings shared a knowing look as they watched Bowen and Rais had a romantic moment for a second or so. Realising that they stood there a moment longer than needed, Bowen pocketed the piece before saying his goodbye.

-next morning.-

Bowen awoke to a heavy feeling on his chest, even with his eyes closed, his brow twitched every so often. Opening his eyes Bowen was greeted to a sight which caused him to blush uncontrollable.

Cute pink nubs, with dollar size nips, Strands of beautiful long red hair. Had blocked his vision, with a soft barrels audio gasp, Bowen reared his head back only to look at the soft blissful ignorance as soft cutesy snores escaped from the luscious pink lips of the sleeping Gremory.

Getting up from his bed, proved to be both a blessing and a curse as he accidentally uncovered a fully nude Rais beneath the covers.

Quickly covering the sleeping woman, Bowen made his way to the bathroom, filling the lage tub with a mildly cold water, once the water was high enough, Bowen jumped in submerging himself until he was completely under water.

"BLARG BLARG BLAAAARGEEN BLAAARG?!" Came the drowning yelled from beneath the water, before Bowen came up for air, only to repeat what he had just yelled in a clam manner. "What the fucken fuck?"

"Damn that woman sometimes." He muttered to himself after he had his cold bath, grabbing an ice cold cup of water before returning to his room, with a still sleeping Rais in his bed. "..."

Looking at the girl and back to his drink, an sadistic smile made it's to his face.

"Rais-chan, wake up." He spoke in a soft whisper, which earned him a cute whinging mumble before she rolled over exposing her breast to the cool air. "If you don't wake up... I will pun-ish you."

Still ignoring his warning, Bowen stood straight up with he drink directly over Rais' laying body, just before he began pouring the ice cold liquid onto her.

"KAAAAYHAAAAAAA!" Came the jolting shriek as the previous sleeper was now awake and dripping wet, and was glaring at the amused look on the Burnette's face.

"I warned you, now get dressed. Having you here will just cause me a headache." He said before he looked over a few notes from Sonja and Lerago from from a day or so before when they had been on patrol.

"I thought a young man like you would jump for joy when having a naked woman in his bed." Rais stated calmly using his blanket to dry herself.

Looking up from one of the notes, Bowen glanced over the naked form of Rais on his bed.

"Normally, one would. But for myself; if I am not in a romantic relationship you, I see no use for such a thing. Don't get me wrong, you are a beautiful woman Rais. I just like to be used or use others like this. I agree to be your freelancer. But other than that we are friends." He said going back to the report in his hand. But every so often he would look up at the young devil in his bed, when he knew she wasn't looking at him. "get dressed, you and I going out."

leaving a bewildered devil behind, Bowen made his way to his room's balcony. Standing again at the railing, Bowen took out a smoke and lit it. It took about fifteen minutes or so, but once he was done.

It taking Rais out during school hours made Bowen think of back when he lived back home in Canada.

"Rais, Hold on tight." He said from beneath his helm, before shifting his speed Into high gear.

Weaving between vehicles at such high speed that made them look like they were parked in the middle of the road made Rias' heart flutter as she tighten her grip around the Masked Rider's waist as they reached their destination.

"Well we are here." He said pulling his bike into a parking spot.

Looking up, Rais saw the sigh. "TODASHINGA'S ARCADE AND ENTERTAINMENT CENTER. There was a few reasons why she was familiar with this place.

1) the Anime/manga stores the littered the small mall.

2) the vast array of gaming systems from Fighters, Mecha, Shooters.

3) the Cosplay and other Cos-business stores.

Looking to the young man the brought her here, made her think of two possible scenarios.

1. He was here for the games and stores; making him a fan of anime or just a going nut.

Or

2. He knew she was Japanophile, and was either mocking her or was treating her to a fun day.

"Hurry up, I'm not missing the sale they have on the Gundam Seed Astray models. Because your legs don't work." the young man called as he entered the store.

Peeking her interests, Rais followed right behind him.

Of the course of several hours, Bowen and Rais had enjoyed themselves. Bowen bought several Gundam kits, most were add-on kits, and some paint kits with a paint spray-gun. Rais bought the Newest featured Manga, a few DVDs, and a costume... an ironic Costume, in Bowen's opinion. A Sexy Devil costume.

After which they spent most of the day at the Arcade games.

When the day was coming to a close, Bowen took Rais out for a bite to eat, and went home.

-Odinson home-

"Sister, father called..." Lerago said from the living room.

"What did he say little brother?" Sonja said as she looked up from the kitchen counter.

"Just that he and Mother will be dropping by some time soon." The youngest said that the middle child.

"Big brother will be most displeased." Sonja said knowing that Bowen had a falling out with their parents before moving here to Japan. "Their reason for this visit?"

"Father didn't say, just that Mother will explain once they come here." He said before making note of something else. "Oh, father will be dropping off some new Gaia Memories that he had purified from the Urunos Memories that Dahaka had given us. But there was something else, he said while our new Memories changed very much it was this Urunos Eternal Memory that caused him some trouble."

"What kind of trouble?" Sonja asked after dumping the chopped vegetables into the pot.

"Just that eternal now has an end. Whatever that means." Lerago said before turning the TV on.

But only one thought was shared between them. 'something terrible is gonna happen.'

-with Bowen-

As Bowen drove his motorcycle through the park towards his home, he was enjoying the peace. Had had a nice day so far, took Rais on a not-date. Which was fun in itself.

But his good mood was spoiled when he had to jump off his motorcycle to avoid an oncoming Fire-Ball, which destroyed his custom Motorcycle.

"MOTHER FUCKEN WHORE!" Bowen yelled as he summoned his Duel

Driver.

"FANG! - JOKER!"

"HENSHIN!" Bowen yelled just as he landed, transforming into his Rider Form. "Now come out, you son of a batch!"

"Oh my, Lady Deamona must not have taught you proper manners, it would seem." Said a man as he stepped out behind a tree, he was wearing a Chinese Sam with long and wide sleeves, with a red and gold flame theme.

"Hou Yao Long." Omega said glaring at one of the eight elementals of his Mother's Peerage. "What does the Fire Demon Dragon want with me?"

"I want nothing more than to test the young prince of my King." Hou Yao said as he bowed with a thin by wide smile on his face and closed eyes. "Think of it as a test for you... only you."

"Why? What does the Balthazar family want from me?" Omega asked drawing out the Joker Saber, not taking his eyes off of his mother's Pawn.

"... I guess I could say they want what is hidden in your blood and soul." Hou Yao said simple with a small shrug of his shoulders before waving his arms about leaving trails of Fire in their wake, before settling into a Monkey-Tiger stance. "But for know I wish to see if you have the strength to stand firm, my young lord."

"So we shall." Omega said before drawing the FANG memory from the Duel Driver and slides it into the Joker-Saber.

"Fang-Saber!"

Hou Yao raised a brow as he watched the simple blade began to curve and sharpen from the original form.

'Well, I guess I may need to give myself a promotion.' He thought to himself before dodging the powerful swings from the young kamen rider.

Jumping out of the way and using his mastery of Fire to keep himself a float.

"Impressive, Lord Bowen." Hou Yao said while clapping, before he started to sending waves, streams, and balls of fire.

Some of which Omega had cut through, re-directed, or had taken hits from.

Standing on shaken legs as the last few attacks had done some major damage to his body by exploding so close to where had been standing. Stood Bowen as the Gaia Memories began to flicker, making him phase between his Morphed and De-morphed forms.

"Silver Driver." Omega said before he completely de-morphed, just as he pressed the button on the cracked Gaia Memory.

""F-FA-FANG!"

Came the glitched announcement of the memory, but Bowen ignored it as he focused solely on Hou Yao. Even going as far as to ignore the look of worry on the man's face, though knew very little about Gaia Memories, he knew enough that the boy was reckless.

"Henshin." Bowen said flipping the driver into the active position, even his normal transformation began to have problems as digital chunks of armor were missing. Even around the face plate had small pieces missing.

The sound of three small roars told Hou Yao Long that Bowen had activated his-

""F-FA-FANG MA-MAXI-MAXIMUM DR-DRIVER-RRRR!"

Seeing Bowen leap into the Air, Hou Yao promoted himself to a Rook at the Last possible moment before the young lad came down with a vengeance. "RIDER FANG DRILLING KICK!"

seeing the boy spin around until he became a typhoon shaped fang as he delivered the final attack.

Bracing himself for it, Hou Yao was shocked to see that it never came as Bowen over shot him and his Rider Form disappeared in a shower of digital glass.

"... it would seem his is not yet ready." Hou Yao Long said as he turn his back to the child before returning to his Enslavers. "For now at least."

"Dammit!" Bowen yelled as he got up into a kneeling position, before slamming his fists into the ground in his anger, not bothering with fact he had split his knuckles open as blood began to pour. "Why am I so weak? Why could I been born with powers like Sonja or Lerago?"

Silence was his answer as he now began to cradle his injured hands, before letting out a painful roar as it was carried long and far.

Not far from were he sat, stood Rias Gremory, who had a sad look on her face as she witnessed the battle. This would be a big problem as she guessed that the Gaia Memories were either broken or destroyed. "Hold strong Bowen-kun, you will become stronger I just know it."
